McDuffie Sets Trap and Makes Big Haul of Gamblers; Assistant Gives Signal

Stealthily surrounding Sam Yick's stall at Hotel Grand, and by gradual approaches, reaching the building and finally pouring in through the windows of the second story, several of Arthur McDuffie's men last night made one of the biggest hauls of gamblers that has been made in the history of Honolulu.

GIVES UP VOYAGE TO HONOLULU TO EMBARK ON MATRIMONIAL SEA
Deciding at the last moment to embark upon the sea of matrimony instead of taking voyage across the Pacific ocean, Miss Maud Compton of Santa Rosa checked Honolulu out of another tourist and the Matson Navigation Company out of a passenger, according to a story for which the San Francisco Chronicle of September 16 vouches the truth.

Mrs. Dowsett is well and popularly known and her appointment cannot but meet with the approval of all who have followed her work with various organizations which have to do with the benefiting of the city. She is a woman of marked artistic tastes and her presence on the commission supports the belief that the mayor is handling the gaming of the commission with discretion.

FIELD PARTY TO LOOK FOR WATER IN MOUNTAINS

Commission Decides to Send Out Competent Engineer to Make Exploration

JORGENSEN SAYS PRICE MAY OFFER BIG SUPPLY

Suggests Site for Tunnel Similar to Waialeale, Which Runs 30,000,000 Gallons

At the suggestion of Lorrin A. Thurston, chairman of the commission appointed by Mayor Lane to investigate Honolulu's potable water supply, and by a motion made by Charles H. Forbes and seconded by James Gibb the members today decided to place a field party at work under a fully competent and practical engineer for the purpose of exploring and investigating various distinct water sources and correlating the results of the investigation to the commission, who will then decide on definite exploration.

Mr. Thurston in stating his opinion on the question following a somewhat lengthy discussion pro and con, in regard to different sources of water, said that he had tried to divest himself of any feeling which favored one special plan. "We must consider every available plan," he said, "and not confine ourselves to one side only."

Mr. Thurston stated that the field party might require six days in which to complete the work, possibly more, but that even that should require six months to be felt that it would be time well spent.

"I have not made up my mind in regard to that," said Mr. Sedgwick, "and I don't care to go on record now as saying whether it would or would not. I believe, however, it is a very serious question, and should be considered."

Official Cables Declare Allies Offensive Failure; Serbia is Invaded

The following cablegram from official German sources was received today: "German Headquarters Report, October 8: Serbia and general offensive movement by the French continue without success. The French offensive in Champagne continues. After an intensive artillery preparation the French made an attack northward of Soissons, being repulsed with considerable losses. Two officers and 100 French soldiers were taken prisoner."

"On the east front Gen. von Hindenburg's troops entered Russian positions before Duenaburg at a breadth of five kilometers. The Germans advanced north of Drenovatz sea. The Russians are continuing attacks between Begimkoye sea and Berezina, which are failing. Eleven officers and 1500 Russians were taken here. Gen. von Luttwig's troops have thrown the enemy from the forest west of Gornobal."

The new Balkan theater of war, Germany and Austria-Hungarian troops in several places have passed the Drina, Save and Danube rivers and established a firm footing on the west bank of the Drina and the southern banks of the Save and Danube rivers.

EARLIER REPORT

The following cablegram from German sources has been received: "German Army Headquarters Report, October 6: All French land operations along the Meuse have failed. The French prepared for a general attack of the Champagne front on Saturday by a very intense artillery fire, but in most places the German artillery fire made it impossible for the French to advance by storm, only near the road from Somme to Suresnes, north and northeast the attack was slightly defeated."

BULGARIA, WITHOUT STATEMENT, ALIGNS WITH TEUTONS, WHOSE SERBIAN INVASION PROCEEDS

GEN. VON MACKENSEN AT HEAD OF BIG COMBINED FORCE WHICH DRIVES INTO COUNTRY TO SEIZE TRUNK RAILWAY TO SALONIKI AND CONSTANTINOPLE—GREECE MAY PROCLAIM "BENEVOLENT NEUTRALITY" TOWARD ENTENTE POWERS AND MAKE NO OPPOSITION TO THE LANDING OF FRENCH TROOPS

LONDON, England, Oct. 8.—An unofficial report on good authority, backed up by recent developments, declares that Greece will tacitly stand by the Entente Powers and will proclaim a "benevolent neutrality" toward the Entente. Thus she will not resist the sending of armed forces through Saloniki to the other border to meet the Teutons or Bulgarians.

Germany Lodges Formal Protest Against Allies on Greek Soil

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 8.—The German government has lodged a formal protest, through its ambassador to Greece, to the Greek foreign office, the protest being based on the landing of troops on Greek soil, at Saloniki, by the Entente Powers. Germany claims such landing is a violation of neutrality or is unfriendly to the Teutonic nations. No reply to the protest has been received.

Big Austro-German Army Flung To Serbia; Seizing Railway

LONDON, England, Oct. 8.—The Teutonic invasion of Serbia is in full swing now with hundreds of thousands of German and Austrian soldiers being flung across the border, headed toward Constantinople.

Serbia and Bulgaria Now Enemies

NISH, Serbia, Oct. 8.—The diplomatic rupture between Bulgaria and Serbia is complete now. The Bulgarian minister here has been handed his passports. The cordial reception in Bulgaria accorded the German aviators who dropped bombs on Belgrade and Nish, killing two persons, is regarded as tantamount to the commencement of hostilities between the Bulgarians and Serbs, though no formal declarations have been made.

American Student is London Prisoner

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Kenneth Triest, a student of Princeton, who disappeared last January and had not been located in spite of a wide search, has been discovered by his relatives and friends a prisoner in London, under accusation of being a spy. His father is a naturalized German. The father has presented Secretary of State Lansing with testimony to prove that the boy is mentally unbalanced.

Bulgaria Says Will Join Teutons

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 8.—Bulgaria's intention to enter the war on the side of Germany has been proclaimed in a manifesto. The manifesto states that it is suicidal for Bulgaria not to align herself with Germany and that her duty is to join the Teutonic Allies to realize her national aspirations.
